

HemoBalance is magnetic induction device that permanently solves the problems with hemorrhoids (piles)

Painless treatment which can, sometime, within few weeks, solve you problems with hemorrhoids and you can avoid surgery. Even, HemoBalance increases blood flow through the prostate, thus preventing the formation of adenomas (magnification) and calcification of the prostate, allowing normal urination until well into old age.

APPLICATION AND EFFECT

Before (and after) each use, HemoBalance should be washed with soap and water (liquid or otherwise), well rinsed and dried. Before inserting into the rectum is smeared with some grease for piles (to the stop) when put into the rectum, to avoid damage to the lining of the colon. Carefully pressed into the rectum (large intestine) to the stop. Remain in a lying or sitting position for one to two hours. After that, HemoBalance can be removed and washed with soap and water.

PROSTATE and HemoBalance

Acting with magnetic induction in the venous system, HemoBalance effect on the prostate, enhancing blood flow through it, thus preventing the formation and calcification of the prostate adenoma. In men with already expressed prostatic hypertrophy, and increasing, enhancing circulation in it, HemoBalance leads to its softening and re-contraction function which makes it easier but, more importantly, complete of urination and cessation nocturnal urination. Hypertrophied and enlarged prostate preventing normal urination and fully, why one part of urine still remains in the bladder and urethra that can cause insufficiency, cystitis (bladder inflammation), urinary tract infection or inflammation of the prostate and kidney stones in the bladder. The stone is created by deposition of salts from the urine, which always lags behind in the bladder, and with it comes to bladder wall thickening. The reason for thickening is in hypertrophied prostate gland which is not able with its contractions to eject urine from the bladder, what is the normal role of the prostate and its muscle contraction releases the urine. However, this can not last long because the bladder wall muscles thicken and lose their ability to make the contractions.

HemoBalance with its (magnetic) induction increases the blood flow through the prostate, bladder and urethra and thus prevents the above symptoms. Change for the better, like the disappearance of these symptoms can be observed after only one or two cycles of application HemoBalance magnets, depending on the degree of development problems. Every man after forty years of age, even in the absence of prostate adenoma, should do every year for one cycle of 14 days with HemoBalance magnets, just in case, to prevent all mentioned possible problems. After fifty years it should be done at least twice a year.

HemoBalance magnets are small investments in health to prevent serious problems that may arise in those years.

Just to mention that experience has shown that the application of HemoBalance magnets leads to an increase in libido, that increase sexual potency in men.

MAGNETISM AND HEALTH

As a science, magnetic biology is about 30 years. No less significant, but much is on the effect of magnets on health is still too little known. The known positive effects of magnets on the healing of bone fractures, the re-creation of cartilage in the joints and have lost the activation function in the body but does not yet know the biological mechanisms of action. How and why this happens. Of course that positive events are more important than themselves, but for better understanding and control of the process from the beginning to the end the biological mechanisms of the action of magnets should be clarify. It is known that the erythrocytes (red blood cells), because of the activity of lectins from the food that is inconsistent with the blood type and free radicals (unstable oxygen atoms) glued each other by the power of lectin agglutination and thus travel through the bloodstream is not performing its primary function well. If the blood system (vessels) exposed to a magnetic field acting only a few minutes, the erythrocytes are magnetised with the same pole and split each to other and begin to function at full capacity. This effectively achieves the effect of autologous transfusion, which at first can actually cause numbness of extremities and nausea, but these symptoms soon ease as magnetized iron in the blood is now much stronger binding oxygen.

Here is the first open, public testimony:

I have just finished the first cycle of 14 days and even, after 5th I have felt the big improvement. The pain has vanished, I am feeling like I never had a such problem. I have covered the magnets with some lubricant and kept them 2 to 4 ours daily, usually in the evening in the laying position. I am very thankful to you for spreading this method and knowledge.

You have my full approval to put this on the web site.
